Neither the Quarterly nor the Editors assume responsibility for errors of fact or opinion on the part of contributors. Sufficient margins have been provided in The North Carolinian to allow for binding. Also, the three holes drilled in each issue are for those who wish to keep their copies in a three-ring notebook, such as may be obtained at any book or dime store. To conserve space in the notebook, the covers of each issue of The North Carolinian may be removed and discarded.

Apparently Stephen B. Weeks and William Wade Hinshaw were in error in stating that Falling Creek Monthly Meeting (Quaker), established about 1748, was located on the Falling Creek that flows north from the Neuse River a few miles west of present-day Kinston, North Carolina. (See footnote # 4, on page 13 of the March 1955 issue of The North Carolinian.) According to Mr. Charles R. Holloman (co-author of The Story of Kinston and Lenoir County), "the Falling Creek near which was 'Anthony Cock's place,' Cox's Mill, etc., is on the south side of Neuse River about ten miles from Goldsboro in the direction of Mt. Olive. It is in the Grantham section of Wayne County, where my great-great-great-uncle, Nathan Holloman, settled in 1778 when he came down from Southampton County, Virginia. This 'Upper' Falling Creek community had and still has many Quakers, and Neuse Meeting House was built in that vicinity. I think we never had many Quakers in the Lenoir-Greene area. One only is listed as such on the 1769 tax list but there certainly were others in the Wayne area then, both around Nahunta (then most often called Narhunty and Tarhunty) and around the Upper Falling Creek-Thoroughfare Swamp section."

Mr. Holloman also says that on page 51 of the June issue of The North Carolinian the name given as William Sawny should actually be Saurey or Sawrey. He says: "This man was an ancestor of mine in the area which became Greene County. The name devolved into other forms later, such as Sorrow(s), Sorry, and in very recent times some of the members have thought their name a misspelling of Sawyer and have changed the spelling to that. Others have changed it to Sorrel. Those who kept the old family Bible in their line retained the form Sawrey which I think was the original. There is today a cousin of mine on the old original homeplace near Walstonburg and his name is William Sawrey. The William Sawrey here in the Index was an original immigrant. He died in 1772. He had a son William who married Ruth Speight, daughter of William Speight. This son William died in 1763 (before his father died) and left a little son William who was the grandfather of my great-grandfather James Sawrey." [This is an interesting example of how various branches of the same family name have so changed the spelling of their name that identity with the original name has practically been lost - Ed.]

New Jersey and North Carolina have had genealogical ties for many generations. As late as 1950 there were 7,475 natives of New Jersey living in North Carolina, and 36,830 natives of North Carolina were living in New Jersey in 1950, according to the Federal census taken in that year. An invaluable aid in genealogical research in New Jersey is The New Jersey Genesis, which began in October 1953. This publication is issued in Oct., Jan., and April, with 12 pages each issue; price: $2.00 per year. Perhaps as circulation increases, the size of the magazine may be increased to include abstracts of wills, deeds, marriages, the 1830 census of New Jersey (earliest one extant for that state), and other unpublished New Jersey material, to enable persons to do their own genealogical research in New Jersey material. Mail your subscription to: The New Jersey Genesis, 49 Grosvenor Road, Short Hills, New Jersey.

Publication of The North Carolinian was announced in several genealogical magazines, and the response has been most gratifying. The Editors appreciate the many subscriptions, each and every one, that have come in from all parts of the nation. It is interesting that more subscriptions have come from Texas than from any other state! The subscription price has been kept low so that all genealogists, amateur as well as professional, could have The North Carolinian in their own personal libraries. The Editors also appreciate the many subscribers who have made a special effort to tell all their friends and relatives about The North Carolinian. The title page and the Introduction from the first issue have been reprinted for advertising purposes, and copies will be sent to any reader wishing them to send to friends and relatives to inform them of this new genealogical quarterly. It will take a vast number of new subscribers to assure the success of this publication. To those of you who planned to do your Christmas shopping early this year, it is suggested that The North Carolinian would make an ideal Christmas gift!

We all like to look at pictures, and a real treat is a new book entitled Early Days of Coastal Georgia, which contains 107 pages of pictures by Orrin Sage Wightman, with comment on each picture on the opposite page, delightfully written by Margaret Davis Cate. Cate and Wightman have captured the spirit of the plantation era of colonial Georgia, and the military era which preceded it, with magnificent views of Fort Frederica, Marshes of Glynn, Lanier's Oak, Christ Church, Rice Plantation of Hofwyl, Oglethorpe Hotel, and one hundred and one other pictures of places and people. The book sells for $6.00; write Mrs. Margaret Davis Cate, P. O. Box 800, Sea Island, Georgia.

Literally thousands of North Carolina Quakers left North Carolina between 1800 and 1850, until the Quaker records of Indiana are practically a continuation of the Quaker records of North Carolina, as published in Hinshaw's Volume I. William Perry Johnson, your Co-Editor of The North Carolinian, has a manuscript copy of most of the Quaker records of Indiana, and has prepared a comprehensive listing of all Quaker Meetings in Indiana up to 1850, both Orthodox and Hicksite, giving date of formation as well as location for each meeting. This listing appeared in the March and June, 1955, issues of The National Genealogical Society Quarterly, and may be obtained for $1.50 per each back issue, i. e., a total of $3.00 for the March and June issues. Address: Miss Roberta P. Wakefield, 3123 Adams Mill Road, N. W., Washington 10, D. C.

MISSISSIPPI GENEALOGICAL EXCHANGE ANNOUNCED

The Editors of The North Carolinian are happy to announce the advent of another genealogical publication devoted to the records of a southern state. Mrs. Katie Prince Ward Esker, of Washington, D. C., a native of Starkville, Mississippi, has launched the MISSISSIPPI GENEALOGICAL EXCHANGE, as of March, 1955. This is a neatly typed and mimeographed quarterly, 20 pages per issue, jammed full of genealogical material pertinent to Mississippi. It contains court records, newspaper items, tombstone inscriptions, deeds, wills, queries and answers, special announcements, and of special value are the abstracts of all Revolutionary War pensioners living in Alabama (or their widows or heirs), and the 1820 census for the State of Mississippi (the earliest census extant for that state, since the 1800 and 1810 are missing), carried serially. Many thousands of North Carolinians settled in Mississippi. Subscription price: $3.00 per year; address: Mrs. Katie W. Esker, 214 Massachusetts Avenue, N. E., Washington 2, D. C.

ABSTRACTS OF PENSION APPLICATIONS OF NORTH CAROLINA SOLDIERS OF THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR

By William Perry Johnson

NOTE: Each subscriber to The North Carolinian shall be entitled to select one name per year from the lists of North Carolina Revolutionary Pensioners as they appear in this publication, or the name may be selected from the lists as they appear in The National Genealogical Society Quarterly[4]. Also, on the same basis, the Editors would be glad to search the files in The National Archives for North Carolina Revolutionary Pensioners whose names are as yet unpublished. Mail all requests to the Editors of The North Carolinian, Box 531, Raleigh, North Carolina.

> The file of Revolutionary War pension applications in the National Archives in Washington, D. C., is not 100% complete, as there is no record for a few soldiers who are known to have applied for a pension and are listed in later reports as pensioners. However, it is probable that 99% of the records are extant. For some of the pensioners there are but a few pages on file, two or three or perhaps half a dozen; for others, there is a voluminous file consisting of dozens of pages of declarations, letters, depositions, affidavits and so on. Many claims are well documented with records of births, deaths and marriages, and many times original Bible and other family records were sent in. It is impossible to publish these pension files in full, and it is pointed out that the following abstracts cannot do justice to the wealth of genealogical and historical material to be found in these pension application files. In these abstracts, every effort has been made to include every item of genealogical interest, all vital statistics and family relationships, as well as information of more than passing interest. If anyone is especially interested in one or more of these pensioners, it is recommended that photostats of the pension papers be obtained, for forty cents per page, from the National Archives, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) JOHN CHESTER, N. C., S1897
Weakley Co., Tenn., 9 October 1832. John Chester, aged about 84 years, declares: That according to the then arrangement of choosing soldiers by ballot, where a certain number less than the whole were required to enter the service out of a militia company, this declarant was selected by ballot as aforesaid, in Dobbs (written over the name Greene - Ed.) Co., North Carolina, about the year 1779 or 1780. Then, under Capt. Benj. Harrison, proceeded to Kingston on Neuse River, the place appointed for the meeting of the troops, and from there to headquarters at West Point, on North River, about 200 miles north of Philadelphia. Reached West Point in latter part of summer or forepart of fall, and remained there until cold weather. Having no barracks to lodge in, they were compelled to retire to Philadelphia to take up winter quarters, where they remained until their term of service of 9 months had expired.

They went by ship from Philadelphia to Portsmouth and by land to town of Halifax in North Carolina, where they were discharged. This declarant states that he has lost his certificate. He placed his discharge in the hands of a purchaser of the arrearage of his pay, to enable him to receive the same, since which time he has not seen or heard of his discharge.

He then served three months tour in South Carolina, about the time the British took possession of and occupied the city of Charleston. Does not recall names of any of the officers, and cannot account for the loss of the discharge he received. He then volunteered for 18 months and served under Capt. Benj. Coleman, Maj. Redding Blount, and Genl. Greene. This was about 1782 or 1783. He served this tour chiefly in South Carolina, below Charleston, about James Island. After his 9 months' term of service in the north, he was exempt from serving any more for three years, as were all others who served during that tour. At the end of his 18 months in South Carolina, as a volunteer, peace was made between the contending powers. Declarant is unable to produce any discharge, has no documentary evidence, and knows of no one who can testify. Was a resident of Dobbs (written over Greene - Ed.) Co., North Carolina, at the time of entering the service, and believes the 9 months were spent in the 23rd Regiment.

Applicant states he was born in Hyde Co., North Carolina, about five miles below town of Washington on Pamlico River, about the year 1748, where he lived until age 13 or 14 when he moved to Contentna in Dobbs Co., North Carolina, where he supposes he lived as much as 12 years, and from there moved to Edgecombe Co., North Carolina, where he lived about 25 years. From there to Williamson Co., Tennessee, where he lived nearly 8 years, then to Hickson Co., Tennessee, where he lived about 14 years, and then to Weakley Co., where he has been not quite two years.

His second tour of three months was as a substitute for Lewis Davis.

Thomas Ross, clergyman, and John Terrell, both of Weakley County, Tennessee, vouch for applicant.

John Chester inscribed on Roll of Tennessee at $80 per annum, to commence 4 March 1831. Certificate of pension issued 8 March 1833, and sent to W. Fitzgerald, M. C. Arrears to 4th of March 1833 - $160.00. Semi-annual allowance ending September 1833 - $40.00. Total: $200.00. Rev. Claim, act of 7 June 1832.

On 11 August 1843, John Lynn, of Kingsport, Tennessee, wrote to the Pension Office in Washington, D. C., asking for information to enable Mrs. Chester, widow of John Chester deceased, who was a Revolutionary pensioner, to obtain a pension.

(3) ELIHU AYRES or AYERS, Lydia, N. C., R335
Patrick Co., Va., 16 Nov. 1832. Elihu Ayres, age 72 the 26th of Jan. last past, makes the following declaration in order to benefit under act of 7 June 1832: That he entered the service 28 Jan. 1778 as a volunteer private, or minute man, as they were then called, under Col. Benj. Cleveland of Wilkes Co., N. C. Served in a militia company commanded by Capt. Micajah Lewis, for 12 months and 13 days. Was not in any engagements with the foreign enemy, it being in that section of the country made up of Whigs and Tories, and was kept constantly in service defending the Whigs and their property from the ravages of the Tories. He traversed the surrounding country from Allen's Iron Works on the Yadkin River to Mitchel's River, Fisher's River, Codie's Creek, Roaring River, Lewis Fork, Riddie's River, to the head of the Yadkin, thence around by the Table Mountains, crossing the three creeks of the Catawba River, thence to the main river down the same to Greenlees Ford, thence to Burke courthouse and from thence crossing the South Yadkin to the Shallow Ford of the main Yadkin River. From thence through the Tory country to the Iron Works above mentioned. During this term of service he was present and assisted in half hanging William Combs whom they let off on promise of better behaviour, hanging William Koyle and Lemuel Jones who were condemned by a court martial consisting of the following officers: Col. Benj. Cleveland, Capt. Benj. Hearndon, Capt. Gordon and Lt. Baker Ayres. Applicant received a discharge from Col. Cleveland, which was some years afterwards burnt in his father's house. At the time this applicant performed this tour of service, his father lived in Pittsylvania Co., Va., from whence he had sent this applicant to Surry Co., N. C., to buy land, which he did, but did not return to his father until he served the above tour, believing his father would not move on account of the Tories raging in that country so violently. At length he received a letter from his father and returned home in 1780, and his father immediately moved to the above mentioned land.

The next tour of duty this applicant performed was under Capt. Salathiel Martin of Surry Co., N. C., who appointed him orderly sergeant. He entered this tour on 5 April 1780, in a regiment commanded by Col. Cleveland. He was for some time employed in the surrounding country in keeping down the Tories. Was under the command of various officers - Capt. Underwood, Capts. Harden, Hearndon, Lewis and others, and on various short tours of duty until August following, when he marched towards King's Mountain. Was stationed a while at Crider's old fort during which time there was a false alarm or a sham fight brought on by our officers in order to try who of the men would fight. From there he marched to King's Mountain, where a battle ensued between the Americans, commanded by Cols. Cleveland, Williams and Campbell, and Faggerson, which terminated in the defeat of Faggerson, with many killed and taken prisoners.

This applicant saw Faggerson lying wounded when Col. Campbell ordered him to surrender, to which he replied that he was on King's Hill and he meant to die in the King's cause. Campbell immediately hewed him to pieces with his sword and left Faggerson dead on the Hill.

This applicant was ordered to assist in guarding the prisoners to Beththatra, the name of the Moravian town in Surry, now Stokes, Co., N. C., where they were delivered to Col. Lock from Rowan or Mecklenburg. Applicant here got a furlough to go home after clothing, but was shortly afterwards ordered out under Maj. Hearndon in a company commanded by Capt. Richard Allen from Wilkes Co., under whom he served until he was marched to the Battle of Guilford. They joined Genl. Greene about 14 days before the battle, at Sumners tavern, he believes in Caswell Co., with whom they remained until the Battle of Guilford on 15 March 1781 and for several days afterwards. This applicant was of the N. C. Militia who got panic struck and ran from the scene of action. On the 7th of April he and the rest of the N. C. militia was discharged, by word of command, by Genl. Greene, not far from Hillsborough, N. C. Applicant states he acted as orderly sergeant six months and two days, which was from the beginning of the last term of service to the Battle at King's Mountain. He forgot to mention that he was also in the Battle of the Shallow Ford of the Yadkin, and was in a Whig and Tory fight called the Battle at Comliss(?). He resided in Surry Co., N. C., till 1781 or 1782, since which time he has resided in Patrick Co., Va.

States that because the first declaration, even though amended, was not acceptable, that a second one had been made. States the shammbattle did not take place at Crider's Fort, but at Wilkes courthouse. "I am in hopes...my claim may not be longer suspended...as I am very old infirm and indigent, and if not aided by the general government must shortly become a charge to the county."

Elihu Ayres inscribed on roll of Va. at rate of $89.13 per annum, to commence 4 March 1831, and sent to Hon. N. H. Claiborne, H. of Rep. Arrears to 4 March 1834 - $267.09. Semi-annual allowance, ending 4 Sept. 1834, $44.51 - Total: $312.60.

Vouched for by Martin Cloud, J. P. - 19 April 1845. There are several letters from George Cloud to Pension Office in Washington, dated 1845 through 1847. Mr. Cloud appears to have lived in Carroll Co., Va.; under date of 23 July 1845 he enquires of the Pension Office as to why he has received no reply to his letter of "latter part of April." States "the Post office at Mt. Airy North Carolina where I mail & receive my communications are so badley managed that it is uncertain wheather a letter will be seen when it gits there or not..." On 18 Aug. 1845, Mr. Cloud mentions, also, the case of Mrs. Sally McCraws, "which has been so difficult & troublesome both to her friends and the officers of the department..."

Letter, dated 9 Feb. 1846, from William Holt, Clerk of Court, Halifax Co., Va., states he has searched records of his office from 1781 to 1800 and can find no marriage of "Elishue Aynes and Lydia Owen." "I further certify that the records of marriages extend back to the first mentioned date and no further and that the said records are not so regular and full as to raise in my opinion, a presumption against the alledged marriage."

Letter from George W. Hopkins, Wash., D. C., to Pension Office, dated 2 April 1846. Writes to enclose the above certification from the Halifax Clerk of Court. States that Mrs. Ayres has died.

Carroll Co., Va., 7 July 1846. Paper lists all the heirs of Lydia Ayres, who died 13 August 1845 in Patrick Co., Va., she having been an applicant for a pension. Letter from George W. Cloud, Carroll Co., Va., to Pension Office, 2 Aug. 1846. Mentions death of Mrs. Sally McCraw, and her children. Same to same, dated 16 Aug. 1846. Mentions that Samuel Woody was heir to Tarlton Woody who died in the services of the U. S. in 1812 or 1813. Brothers of said Tarleton Woody defrauded this heir out of his bounty in 1820 or thereabouts by swearing that the sd Tarleton had neither wife nor children, and obtained the sd bounty appropriated to the sd Tarleton in Arkansas Territory. States that Tarleton's wife administered on his estate and received his monthly pay which he did not receive in his lifetime.

Letter of Thos. H. Averett, Rep., 3rd Dist. of Va., 4 Feb. 1852, regarding Lydia Ayres.

The claim of Lydia Ayres was rejected. Also, the Sec'y. of War's Report for 1835 listed Elisha Ayres of Patrick Co., Va., when it should have been Elihu. In 1930, Mrs. Joseph Owens, 237 Solar St., Bristol, Va., wrote regarding Elisha or Elihu Ayres.

BASS FAMILY HISTORY PUBLISHED

Ivan Ernest Bass, Rear Adm. (Ret.),of Washington, D. C., has come forth with his Bass Family History, and he may well be proud of his volume. This history of Esau Bass, a North Carolina Revolutionary soldier, his brother Jonathan Bass, and their descendants, is unusually well done. The records of the thousands of descendants, mainly residents of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi, are orderly arranged, with much historical and biographical material. Numerous pictures of the older generations add much to the volume, as does the comprehensive index. This attractive and worthwhile book sells for $10.00. Order from Mr. Ivan E. Bass, 2900 Connecticut Ave., N. W., Washington 8, D. C.

LAND GRANTS TO FIRST SETTLERS IN OLD ORANGE COUNTY - NOW SOUTHERN DURHAM COUNTY AND PARTS OF WAKE COUNTY 1740-1810

Contributed by A. B. Markham

EDITOR'S NOTE: We are indebted to Mr. A. B. Markham of Durham, North Carolina, for the interesting map on the following pages. He says that this is a portion of a much larger, irregular shaped map that he has spent a great deal of time on the past couple of years. In the words of Mr. Markham: "The people whose grants are shown on this map are the people ordinarily not mentioned in county histories. There was not a senator or a governor among them. They were just the ordinary people who settled this part of old southeast Orange County, farmed the land, owned a few negroes, gave their land for, and built with their own hands, the meeting houses that were to become our churches. They were the magistrates, justices of peace, the sheriffs and constables. They served on the juries and laid out the roads that are now our highways. They, unlike the few, had no claim to distinction or prominence yet they were the foundation stock that made our state the great state it is today. They gave to their sons, grandsons, and great-grandsons the strength of character that is producing today the leaders in North Carolina, the ministers, lawyers, doctors, college professors, business men and so on." Persons interested in these pioneers may write to Mr. Markham at 507 Cleveland Street, Durham, North Carolina.
